

THERMOGARD

Segmented Gel Ice Packs

A flexible coolant, that adds value to your package.

To better suit to your unique product, Segmented Gel Ice Packs can be manipulated into different shapes and configurations, allowing for better thermal transition. Easy and lightweight to layer, their thin profile allows you to pack more product, or use smaller boxes, making for a more efficient pack-out.

Their larger surface area, not only allows for better spread of temperature across all products in the pack-out, but also means your delicate product is not damaged during transit.

Can be shaped around product

Fits the entire base of your carton

Many Configurations Available

Easy handling when packing

Lightweight for its surface area

For all-round thermal coverage and complete peace of mind,

Get In Touch!